

The Confident Woman—Day One

Who Is the Great “I AM?”

“Thus you shall say to the children of Israel, ‘I AM has sent me to you’”(Exodus 3:14).

The first step in becoming a confident woman of God is affirming that your confidence is in the name of the Lord, the great “I AM” and who He is your provider.

Of all the names attributed to God in His Word, “I AM” is one of the most intriguing. With this name God declares His eternal presence and omnipotent sovereignty. It reveals He has existed throughout history and that He always will.

When Moses asked God how to identify Him to the pharaoh who had enslaved His people, God made a breathtaking declaration: “I AM that I AM,” one the false gods of Egypt could never match. Then Moses asked, “But who am I that I should go?”

God replied, “I AM will be with you ... This is what you are to say ... ‘I AM has sent me ... ‘ This is My name forever, the name by which I am to be remembered from generation to generation” (Exodus 3:12–15).

I don’t know what you need at this very moment, but have confidence the “I AM” will provide. You have His Word on it.

- Do you need strength?
The “I AM” is a mighty, strong tower. Run to Him.
- Do you need security?
His faithfulness will be your shield. Abide with Him.
- Do you need courage?
Fear not, for the “I AM” is with you. Trust in Him.
- Do you need direction?
The “I AM” says, “I know the plans I have for you.” Look to Him.
- Do you need peace?
Jesus is the Prince of Peace. Surrender your worries to Him.

The “I AM” is your provider. Seek Him knowing He will provide everything you need. A confident woman can cast all her cares on Him, knowing that He cares for her.

Dear Father,

I know You are the great “I AM” and nothing is too difficult for You. I will trust in You alone to be my provider today. I need:
